GREAT CHALLENGES AND REWARDS:

The Army is the largest military branch in the United States. Its job is to protect the country and its citizens. U. S. Army Soldiers find themselves in high-pressure environments taking on real-world challenges on a daily basis. Here are some important aspects about the skills and training they can get:

- The U.S. Army is a team of highly skilled, trained professionals, working together to handle any challenge the Nation may face.
- The Army provides a culture of continuous learning that promotes critical thinking, leadership, problem solving and innovation. These skills are valuable throughout your life.
- The Army's advanced training prepares Soldiers to handle any challenge, whether in the more than 150 career fields available in the Army, or in their civilian career.
- The Army provides men and women with the opportunity to be a part of something bigger than themselves, to make a difference in the world and in their community.

CHOOSE AMONG 150 CAREERS.

The U.S. Army offers training in more than 150 careers.

A PATH FULL OF BENEFITS:

The U.S. Army offers recruits the opportunity to be a part of something greater than themselves. Being a part of the U.S. Army means being part of a team built on values like respect, integrity and honor. In addition, the U.S. Army teaches leadership skills that will benefit Soldiers throughout their career and life.

The U.S. Army has training and jobs in more than 150 career fields, ranging from nursing and mechanics to engineer and many more. U.S. Army Soldiers also receive competitive pay and benefits packages that equal or surpass those found in many entry-level civilian jobs.

CHOOSING A CAREER WITHIN THE U.S. ARMY:

The U.S. Army offers a guaranteed job to everyone, depending on availability and qualifications. Recruits have the opportunity to train and achieve certification in almost any career path. Additionally, you will receive hands-on training, and you will be expected to carry more responsibility than you would starting out in a comparable civilian job.

REQUIREMENTS TO BECOME AN ENLISTED SOLDIER IN THE U.S. ARMY:

- A U.S. citizen or permanent resident
- 17-34 years old
- Achieve a minimum score on the ASVAB test
- Meet medical, moral and physical requirements
- A high school graduate or equivalent

ATTENDING COLLEGE:

The U.S. Army offers a variety of avenues for Active Duty Soldiers to obtain their higher education degrees. Additionally, online classes and physical colleges close to military bases offer multiple avenues for Soldiers to attend class and achieve their goals.
