

Connect with what matters to you

LONGWOOD
UNIVERSITY

MAKE THE RIGHT CONNECTIONS AT A TOP-5 PUBLIC UNIVERSITY IN THE SOUTH

(U.S. News & World Report)

It's not just learning facts and figures. It's connecting to the real-world issues that matter most to you. That's Civitae, Longwood's distinct approach to education that will prepare you to stand out in both your life and career. You'll take cross-discipline courses that address important topics. Work alongside faculty on research. And explore far-off destinations in our Brock Experiences, examining pressing topics and forming lasting bonds with other Lancers.

PREPARING TO STAND OUT IN YOUR LIFE AND CAREER

Opportunities like the following will not only provide you with sought-after career skills, but also teach you the importance of civic engagement and valuing different perspectives. Building connections outside your comfort zone is how you become a better citizen.

Civitae Core Curriculum

In this distinctive set of courses, you'll explore important real-world issues, preparing you to become a more engaged citizen who is ready to make a positive difference in your community.

Cormier Honors College for Citizen Scholars

In this community of focused and like-minded students, you'll enhance your experience at Longwood as you live and learn through scholarship and service.

Brock Experiences

Immerse yourself in an important topic or issue while you travel the country. Recently, students have studied immigration in Arizona, natural resources in Alaska, and art and culture in Boston.

Service Opportunities

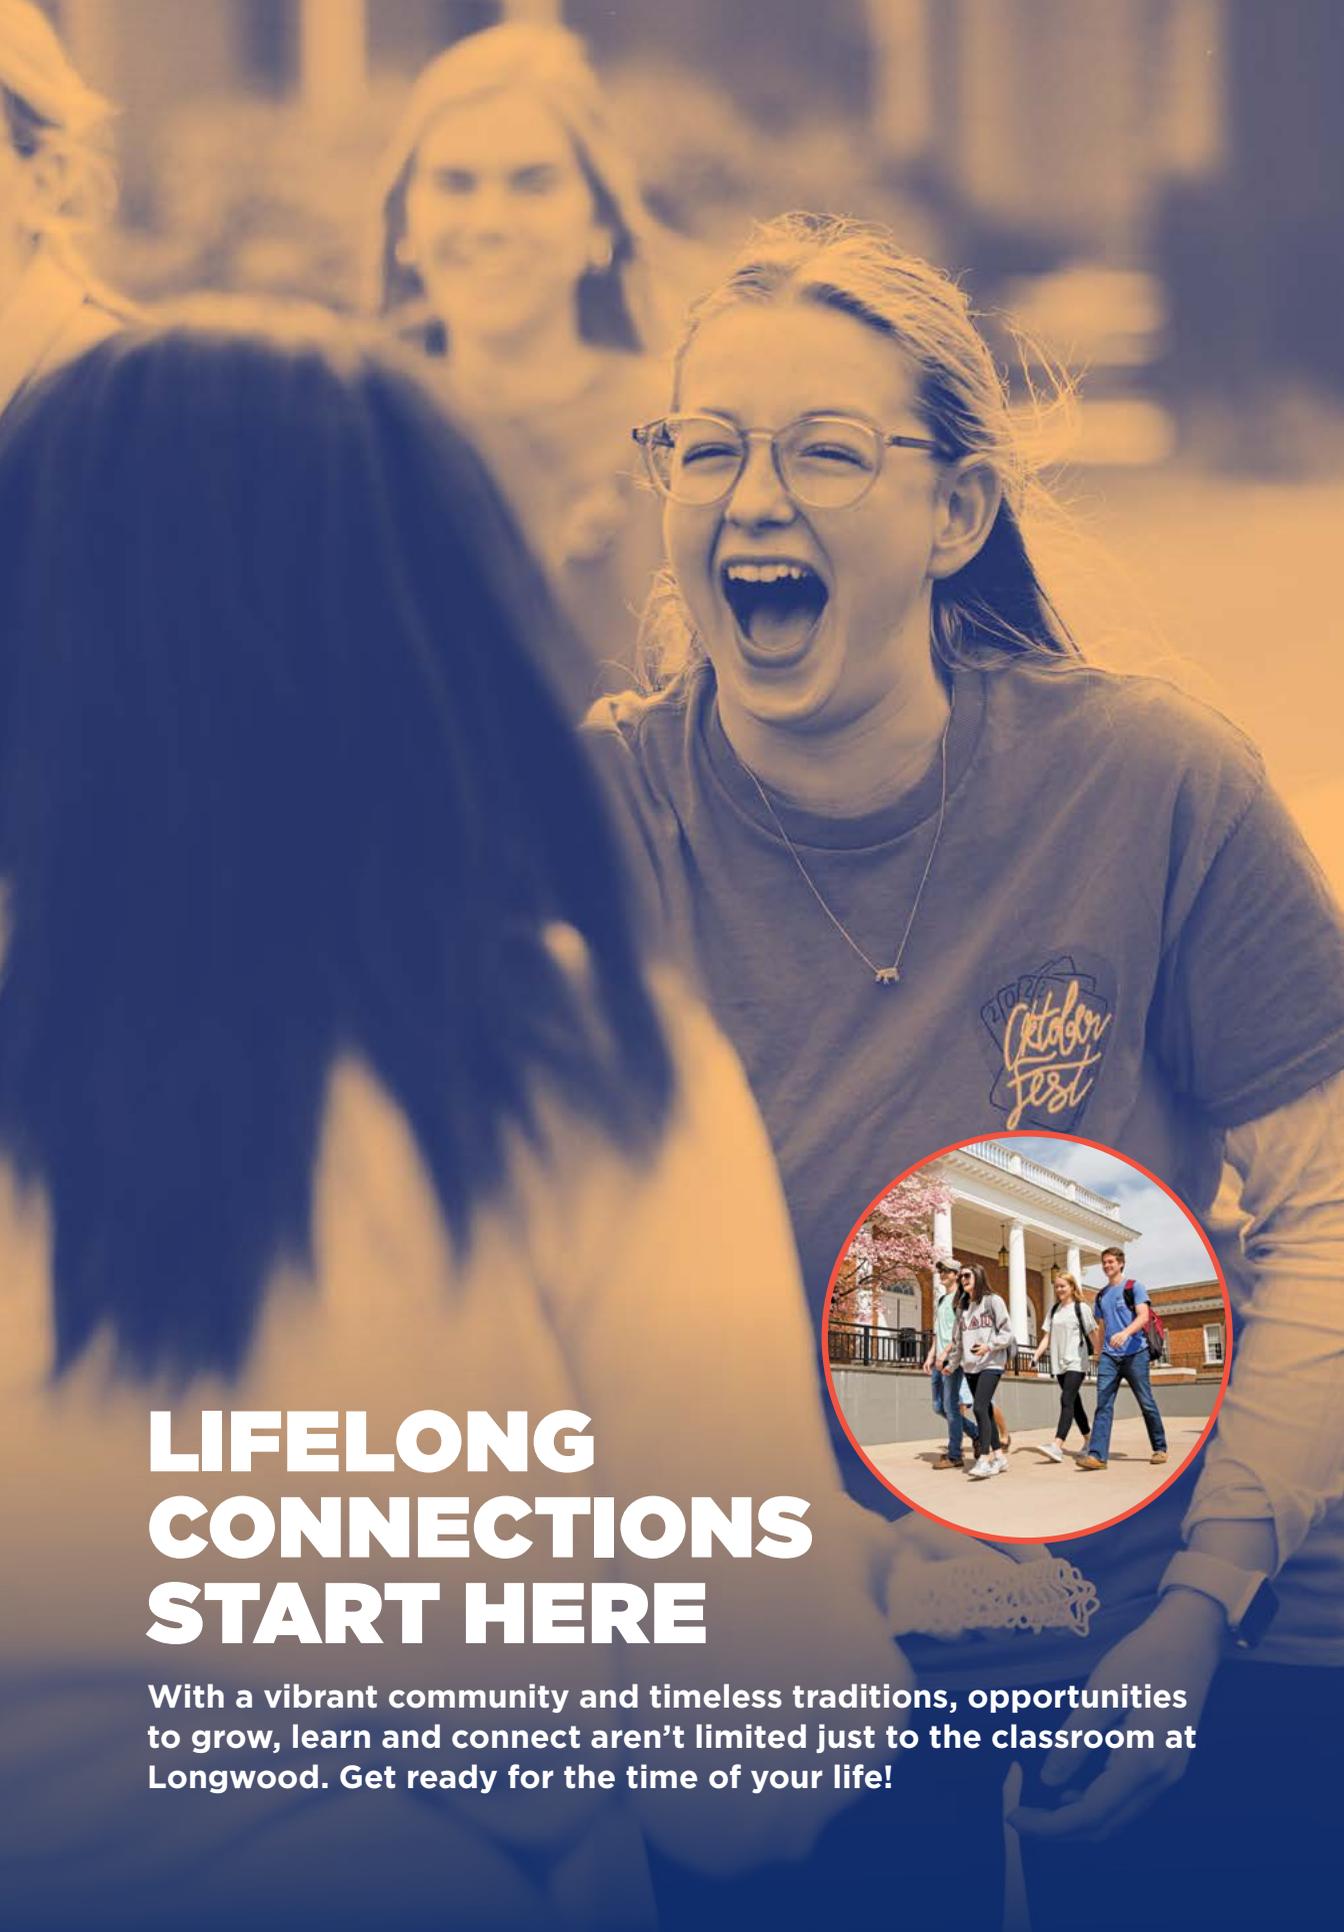

Helping others is central to being a Lancer. You'll have opportunities to take part in numerous volunteer and service projects. That includes cleaning up watersheds, collecting items for shelters, helping at-risk kids and much more.

LIFELONG CONNECTIONS START HERE

With a vibrant community and timeless traditions, opportunities to grow, learn and connect aren't limited just to the classroom at Longwood. Get ready for the time of your life!

Oktoberfest

A fall weekend of fun and relaxation highlighted by live music, bonfires and lots (and we mean lots!) of paint.

Color Wars

Lancers sling paint at each other during fall's Oktoberfest.

Spring Weekend

Taylor Swift, Dierks Bentley and Fetty Wap have performed at this event.

The G.A.M.E.

While proudly donning their Longwood scarves, students march through Farmville, spreading the Lancer spirit along the way.

Late-night Breakfast

A meal among Lancers to help lower stress during exams.

Oozeball

Prepare to get really dirty in this mud-soaked game of volleyball.

Secret Societies

Working in secrecy, CHI, Cahoots and Princeps promote Lancer spirit throughout campus.

Convocation

A longstanding Longwood tradition highlighted by the "capping" of seniors by their friends.

TWO-COLLEGE TOWN

With Hampden-Sydney College (founded in 1775) also in the area, Farmville was the first town in the nation with two colleges, making for a youthful and vibrant place to live and learn.
