

Enrollment Locations

The Institute of Agricultural Technology (IAT) delivers education and training programs to develop a skilled workforce equipped to keep pace with new trends and technologies.

Program Benefits

- Develop practical skills for job readiness.
- Learn from experienced instructors and industry leaders.
- Gain real-world industry experience.
- Professional networking for employment.
- Special transfer program to continue at MSU for a bachelor's degree.

Certificate Programs

- Agricultural Industries
- Agricultural Operations
- Dairy Management
- Electrical Technology
- Food Processing, Technology and Safety
- Forest Technology
- Fruit and Vegetable Crop Management
- Fruit, Vegetable and Organic Horticulture Management
- Landscape and Nursery Management
- Landscape Management
- Livestock Industries
- Sports and Commercial Turf Management
- Turfgrass Management - golf course
- Urban Forest Management
- Viticulture (Traverse City only)

Applied Learning Opportunities

Students will have many opportunities to apply what they learn in order to gain career-ready skills and experience.

LABORATORIES

Students will spend time conducting experiments, engaging in research projects, and testing new information.

CLERKSHIPS

Clerkship classes meet at MSU facilities or an industry location allowing students to learn new information and practice new skills.

PROFESSIONAL INTERNSHIP

All IAT certificate programs require completion of a professional internship that matches their personal interests and career goals.

Explore IAT

Explore IAT certificate programs at IAT.MSU.EDU/STUDENTS, email questions to ati.iat@msu.edu.

Scan the QR code to sign up for more information about IAT certificate programs and locations.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Institute of Agricultural Technology