Navigating Ethical and Legal Dilemmas in Counseling

Carolyn Stone

ABOUT THIS SESSION: Navigating the complex balance between the needs of the school environment, students' confidentiality rights, and parents' legal authority in guiding their children's lives is challenging. In today's climate, these issues are even more pronounced. This session will provide updates on current legal issues and court rulings that impact practice. Topics will include rulings on First Amendment rights, transgender youth, undocumented students, child abuse reporting, Parents' Bill of Rights, chaplains in schools, student speech, and other emerging matters. Participants will gain legal literacy and guiding principles to support the best legal and ethical practices in their work."

SPEAKER BIO: Carolyn Stone, Ed.D., is a Professor Emeritus of Counselor Education at the University of North Florida (UNF). Dr. Stone is a Past President of the American School Counselor Association (ASCA), and in 2010 was presented the ASCA Lifetime Achievement Award. Prior to coming to UNF, Dr. Stone spent 22 years with Jacksonville, Florida's Public Schools as an elementary and high school counselor, middle school teacher and Supervisor of Guidance Services. She supervised 225 school counselors. Dr. Stone was ASCA's Ethics Chair from 2002 to 2022 and chaired the last four revisions of the ethical standards.

Unstoppable Self-Care: Harnessing Your Strength to Overcome Burnout Amid Serving Others

Michael McGill, Jr.

ABOUT THIS SESSION: As school counselors, we pour our hearts into supporting others—but who supports us? In this energizing keynote, we'll explore how to prioritize unstoppable self-care while continuing to serve with passion and purpose. Discover how to harness your inner strengths, set healthy boundaries, and develop sustainable habits that build community, create connection, and increase your impact— from a full cup. Through truth-telling, laughter, and maybe even some tears, we'll also explore how you can care for yourself without guilt and reignite the energy that fuels your work. Leave feeling empowered to thrive personally and professionally — because when you care for yourself, you're better able to care for others. And you become unstoppable.

SPEAKER BIO: Michael McGill, Jr. is a keynote speaker, award-winning and nationally board-certified (mental health) psychotherapist, life teacher, T.V personality, and best-selling author who's been featured on CNN, ABC, CBS, NBC, COURT TV, FOX, and host of other networks. As a wellness advocate with a background in education, social psychology, and a post-graduate background in clinical mental health counseling (with honors) from Johns Hopkins University where he was both educated and trained, McGill works with leaders, businesses, schools, and community organizations on topics of wellness, self-improvement, human relationships, and ways to develop powerful human connections. With clients like Hanes Brands, Wells Fargo, Nikon, U.S. Army, Georgetown University, HCA Healthcare, and a host of government agencies, school districts, Fortune 200 companies, and many community organizations, Michael's talks are filled with principles of self-reflection, self-awareness, and self-growth. He also works with organizations on ways to enhance their climate & culture through fruitful relationship building; as a result, they are able to build community, create connection, and increase their impact on those whom they serve. Michael regularly appears on TV morning shows across the country where he discusses how we can live, love, and lead well! As a lifelong student of healthy relationships & human development, as well as an overcomer of deep tragedy and sorrow, Michael is an unrelenting optimist who believes that we can be great individually, but we can be unshakably extraordinary when we join and commune in healthy relationships with other people.
