

Educators thrive at Carson-Newman

where supportive faculty bring real classroom experience and invest personally in every student, fostering a true sense of community and belonging. Regardless of your educational path, connection goes beyond coursework—students receive hands-on guidance and encouragement in a Christ-centered environment dedicated to nurturing lifelong leaders and compassionate teachers.

“Carson-Newman shaped not only the trajectory of my professional journey but also the very foundation of my personal resilience. The academic rigor of the Master of Education, Educational Specialist, and ultimately, the Doctor of Education programs refined my leadership capabilities, strengthened my commitment to ethical practice, and deepened my understanding of servant-leadership.”
