Students check-in

Every week, students complete a digital well-being check-in that invites them to express how they are feeling. Students often view this space as an interactive journal, where they can share experiences with teachers and counselors more easily and comfortably than talking directly.

How are you feeling this week?

What were some strategies that helped you this week?

Teachers respond

Educators can reply in the platform to acknowledge and affirm student experiences. This powerful tool helps strengthen relationships and elevate learning.

Student

 I'm stressed because practice goes late and I get too tired to finish my homework

Teacher

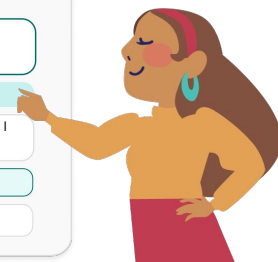

It seems like you have a lot to juggle, and that can be very challenging.

Reply

I appreciate you opening up to me so that I can help.

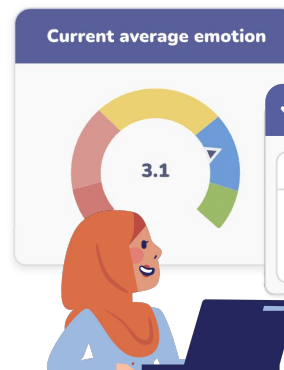

Let's talk more. We can come up with a plan.

Sorry to hear that! How can I help?

Schools support

School & support leaders get data-driven insights and alerts on student well-being, with Tier 2 & 3 recommendations. This proactive approach helps identify and support students more efficiently.

Sabrina N. Ruiz Advisory 10/27/23

 To be honest, this whole week has been awful. I'm tired of thinking, I don't know what to do anymore.
