WINTHROP  UNIVERSITY

PETER NO

CLASS OF '29

MEET THE BIOLOGY MAJOR BY DAY, ESPORTS PHENOM BY NIGHT

Most athletes dream of going pro after college. Not Peter. He stepped away from a five-year run as a professional esports player to join Winthrop's team. The freshman biology major chose Winthrop because it aligned with his end game — to play for a top-tier team while earning a degree that will lead to dental school. Can you say “Dr. No” by 2033?

AVERY JOLLEY

CLASS OF '25

THE SCHOLAR WHO KILLS IT

Dig this Big South Conference Volleyball Player of the Year who also excels in the classroom. Avery's 2025 season was one for the ages, as she tied the program record with 30 kills in a single match in her final regular season game. The healthcare management major won Scholar Athlete of the Year, proving she's all business no matter the goal.

SABR LATEEFUDDIN

CLASS OF '28

ARTSWINTHROP TAKEOVER

Sabr Lateefuddin picked up a pencil at two years old and never looked back. Her artistic arsenal (and creativity) has blossomed since coming to Winthrop. The design and illustration major is still in her Blue Period, but you can already find her chibi- and anime-inspired works around campus and in downtown Rock Hill.

BEN BYRD

CLASS OF '27

PUTTING IT ON THE LINE

Don't be surprised if you see this standout campus leader achieving world peace by 2037. Political science major Benjamin Byrd cut his teeth in conflict resolution as a R.A. and peer mentor, and he rocked the Model United Nations Coordinator General role last year. With internships in the U.S. House of Representatives and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, could he be a future Cabinet member?

EMANYA ROACH

CLASS OF '26

LEADER TURNED DREAM BUILDER

Whether it's more than 5,000 Winthrop students or 30 first graders, Emanyia encourages young minds to grow big dreams. The former Student Body President and Close Scholar has taken her love for leadership, learning and service to the first-grade classroom as a beginning teacher who earns an A+ for the legacy she leaves at Winthrop and in the lives of her students.
