Growing the Child-Serving Workforce through Registered Apprenticeship Programs

EDHUBNY supports both job seekers and employers working across the early childhood and education fields. We connect individuals with apprenticeship opportunities while helping organizations develop the workforce they need through technical assistance, resources, and partnerships. In addition, EDHUBNY also works as an intermediary, through ANEW, to offer access to group-sponsored Registered Apprenticeship Programs across all child-serving titles.

EDHUBNY provides...

- Career connections for individuals seeking opportunities in early childhood and education careers
- Workforce support for employers and agencies serving children of all ages, birth → high school graduation
- Pathways to group-sponsored Registered Apprenticeship Programs through ANEW
- Resources and technical assistance customized to organizational needs and local context
- Partnerships and guidance to help navigate state agencies, procedures, and protocols

Encompassing careers serving children from birth through high school graduation.

AppleCORE builds pathways into a career in education as an initially certified NYS teacher by weaving together AmeriCorps service with a Registered Apprenticeship Program (RAP), providing maximum support for aspiring educators to acquire the competencies for career success as they serve their communities.

Barriers are removed through tuition support, living stipends, wages for time served as an apprentice, and wraparound supportive services. These strategies broaden opportunities for job seekers to earn NYS initial teacher certification and enter a career in education.

A central place for Apprenticeships, for both seekers and employers.

Technical Assistance, Services, & ANEW Membership are free.
